EDITOR AND MANAGER......CLARENCE MATHEWS

local and Long Distance Telephone No. 40. Office-Public Ledger Building. Antered at the Maysville, Kentucky, Postoffice as Second-class Mail Matter.

FIGHTING AS THE HUN

The Daily Bulletin, known as the official Democratic organ of Employment Service and other war Mason county and self styled "the Fireside Journal" makes a feeble emergency polleles of the Department attempt to defend County Clerk James J. Owens' refusal to let the of Labor. printing of the County Ballots ont by bid, in their issue of Suturday and, as is usually the ease, when they have no argument whatever, they try to hide the real issue behind a personal attack.

The Public Ledger, despite the Bulletin's dirty thrust, intends to play the game fair.

We critisized James J. Owens as County Clerk in our editorial of Friday and not James J. Owens, citizen. As a private citizen no one respects him more than we but us an official of the county he played polities in the instance we have eited and he cannot and does not deny it. The Bulletin cannot deny it and does not attempt to deny it. Instead they employ the same sort of tacties which have made the Hun so very popular in America just now. They engage in dirty personal insinuations for which the alleged editor of that paper long since established a wide reputation.

The Public Ledger desires to play the game fair. If we desired to fight back in the same manner in which the Bulletin has made its attack, we might do so but it's not our idea of square fighting.

The eaption of Friday's editorial-"Party Polities Controls Owens''-has not been denied.

As to the insinuations thrown out by the Bulletin in Suturday's issue we have nothing to say except that the alleged editor of that alleged newspaper is no Lion Tamer.

NOTHING MORE THAN HOG-WASH

The Germans proclaim themselves the super-race. The way to measure a people is not by what they claim for themselves, but by what their masters think of them, when they have a master and Germany has one, supreme, arrogant.

Before we entered the war, but while her infamous sea wolves were sinking American ships and murdering American citizens the master of the Germans told them Americans were a nation of bluffers and cowards and wouldn't fight; after the United States en. trede the war and up until a few days ago that name master had themthem constantly dulled with daily aspersions on the hulf-hearted way they were proseenting their eml of the hostilities and the insignificant force they had so far put into France.

Then when the catacylsm came with the Allies striking a counter blow and sweeping onward, the Kaiser madé a sudden discovery and a new taet that he regaled "my people" while the Americans acted like cowards and ran away every time a gun roared "py gullant soldiers moved them down by the hundreds of thousands. That, however, proved somewhat too strong for the Ilnn stomach. which hasn't much else that is sustaining to feed on these days, and shortly the story was cut down several snakes by substituting the word tens for hundreds. Meantime "my gallant soldiers" continue to do what running backwards there is."

Thus in these deecits and contradictions we have the master' opinion of his subjects and how dull aml stupid he takes them to be could scarcely more forcibly be conceived. They who can believe their enemies are weaklings and cowards, when their master's troop are receiving frequent reverses at their hands and steadily retiring before their onslaughts, must be witless indeed. We would not put such an estimate upon the German people ourselves, but any assumption of theirs that they are a superior, to say nothing of a Winters, keeper of a lodging house super race, is mocked by the Kaiser's evident estimate of their in- here, and Mrs. Alliston Gardner of telligence, or rather lack of it.

In this country if any like deception were attempted we would contemptuously toss it aside as "hog-wash."

LIGHTLESS NIGHTS ORDER AGAIN EFFECTIVE

An order of the United States Fuel Administration, effective July 24, provides that the use of light generated or produced by the use or consumption of coal, gas, oil or other fuel for illuminating or displaying advertisements, annuncements, or signs, or for the external ornamentation of any building, will be discontinued entirely on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of each week within New England and the States of New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, and District of Culumbia, and will be entirely discontinued on Manday and Tuesday of each week in all the remainder of the United States. The order excepts bona fide roorf gardens, outdoor restaurants, autdoor moving pieture theaters.

Street illuminations in all cities are restricted to the hours between sinset and sunrise, and the amount of public lighting in any eity will be reduced to that necessary for safety,

The use of light for illumination or display in shop windows, store windows, or in signs in show windows will be discontinued from sunrise to sunset, and will be discontinued entirely on the "lightless nights" designated by the order.

The Fuel Administration has been advised by the Bareau of Standards of the Department of Commerce that about 500,000 tons of coal per year is used for advertising purposes, including display and show-window lighting, in the United States. Estimates fixed the amount of coal used in advertising light in New York City at 16,000 tons per yenr.

Birmingham, Ala., is to revive the old-time pillory as a fit punishment for "sinekers, pro-Germans, proliteers, interers of sedition and loafers." Kentucky does not need to revive her whipping post in order to employ it to the same purpose,

The American troops charged with the Australians at Hamel shorting "Insitunia!" The Germans are likely to curse the name and the memory of the deed long before they hear the last of it.

We may readily credit the report that a serious disease has developed in Germany due to the lack of sonp, civilization's chief safe. guard against encroaching germs.

The work will in many ways be comparable to that which the regular Speakers' Bureau of the Department of Labor has already under way, with the difference that while members of the latter speak to meetings of wage earners only, Mr. Coleman's speakers will generally be confined to gatherings of employers

An exception to this rule will be Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the famous English suffragist, who is now in this country and whose services have been secured by Mr. Coleman for patriotle rallies with the workers in important wor plants. The confidence, expressed by Clnclauatt mombers of the Ohio Valley Improvement association, that the harges and towboats which the Government is building for use on the Mirslsslppi river would also come up the Ohlo river to Cincinnati, received a shock Thursday when the Chamber received a letter written by M. J. Sanders of New Orleans, Federal manager for the Mississippl and Warrlor rivers, both of which streams are to have Federal barges. The communication was sent to M. C. Garber of the Madlson (1nd.) Courler, who is anxious to see Federal barges on the Ohlo. In the letter Sanders declares that the Ohlo river has the handleap of an Irregular ami Insufficient channel, that shippers want permanent and efficient navigation for economic transportation, that they no not care for "spasmodle" service, that the plac-foot stage for the Ohlo river is not yet completed and that transportation will first be develoned when the stream offers a continuous and navigable channel of sufficient capacity for economic trans-

The Madison Courier says that this means that "the Ohlo river is left out" - that the Mississippl river barges will not come up the Ohlo nuless Sanders takes a different view.

Plant That Needed Ten Workers to Keep Going Gets Them in the Nick of Time From Department of Labor.

"Our plant needs ten workers. We need them bad. If we can't get ten of the right sort we'll have to close down."

The spenker was a factory owner. His plant was doing war work for the government. It was a matter of great moment to him to fill those ten vacancies. He had brought his troubles to E. M. Kline, manager of the District of Columbia Employment Service station of the Department of Labor, and they were talking matters over in Mr. Kline's little office in the rear end of the Pennsylvania avenue store room, which is occupied by the station. Mr. Kline thought he could. He got In touch with several of the 450 other oillees of the Department of Labor's Employment Service, and within a day he had located a station where there happened to be a surplus of that kliid of labor. The next step was to send out to that partleular office two men, a representative of the factory and a representative of the Department of Labor. They interviewed the workmen, found them satisfactory, and immediately made arrangements for bringing them to Washington to their new work

A trnln of eight ears was seenred, slx for white men and two for negroes. Rotations were one of the first considerations. An initial supply of 3,600 sandwiches was placed aboard the train, together with coffee, plenty of drinking water, and so on. It was arranged to have the stock of food replenished at various points en ronte., Four men in each car were picked to act as keepers of the larder, and they were given the somewhat ticklish job of seeing that every man got his share and was kept satisfied and contented during the journey. No Intoxicants were permitted, and the car foreman was instructed to keep ths men amused and occupied. In order to do this effectively he had to have a touch of the vaudeville artist

When the train reached Alexandria. Va., army motor trucks met the workmen and carried them out through the woods to Camp Ilumphreys. There they found a square meal walting for them, and a good night's rest afterward. The next day they began work.

TIME FOR WORTHLESS DOG TH GH

Fifteen years ago, where I live, nearly every farm had its llock of farms where shee are raised. There is plenty of land producing nothing where a goodsized lock of sheep could be thriving. The reason is most housands of worthless dogs that are doing nothing but enting and destroy worthless dogs is that there are so many men keeping dogs who are no they are and wnit from then till some or tried to feed, these dogs instead o feeding a hog or some chickens.

These four farmers whom I spoke of who keep sheep bave taken the situation into their own hands. The warned the neighbors that every stray log found on their premises would be killed. They had to kill a few to let the people know that they meant what they said. Some of the neighbors told them if they eaught their dogs or their farm by themselves they would kill them. Those who dldn't wan their dogs killed kept them tled, and the result is that there is hardly ever raid. Then It is done by some dog that lives two or three miles away.

What we need is a tay of ten dol ars on each dog. This would cans all of the worthless dogs to be kill ed and done awny with. I like a good dog as well as any man, but I hate a log as much as any man could who is all the time gone from home killing sheep, sucking eggs, breaking into smokehouses, or something else. It is etting time for people to wake up and swat the worthless dog. If a mai needs a dog and is able to keep one, let him get one timt is worth-something. If he doesn't earn ten dollars and his board in a year, you had bet ter do away with him at once

Then the crowd had the gracious opportunity of hearmissionary, three times. Despite : was in fine trim and guve three onserful sermons. The afternoon address was in the nature of a lecture on the Chinese Boxer Uprising. The speaker was in China ali during those trying times, and his description was the more vivid because of the personai touch. It is certain that those who heard him have a clearer conception of the causes that led up to those times and the consequences than they > have heretofore had. We will not attempt to give any personal mention of the great crowd that would be well-night impossible. Suffice it to say that for the distance of forty miles around the country was well represented. This is written before the closing service. We may have a few more notes after it is all over. We close now in order to get it off Sunday evening.

ELECTRIC CURRENT FROM NEW POWER PLANT FURNISHED

Current From Maysville's Complete New Power Plant Turned Into. Wires Last Night-One of the Most Complete Plants la the State.

Current from Maysville's new Elecric power plant was turned into the great arieries of wire which distribute the power into all parts of the city last night and this morning ail of tho electricity in the city is being furnished by the new plant, one of the best equipped and most complete electric generating plants in the state of Ken-

Durlag all of last week the machnery at the January & Wood Cotton Mills was being put into shape for the new plant to drive it and this morning he spindles turned by the power of

At nine o'clock Sunday morning the old efectric plant was stopped and the new plant took up the street car load. During all of the day the electricians were busy in all parts of the city changing the distributing system from two to three phase and there was no electric current in the city from niae o'clock yesterday morning until the power was turned into the cables lest night after all of these changes had been made.

The plant was built by Cochran Brothers who have incorporated the company in the name of The Maysville Power Company. Mr. J. E. Sirrine, of Greenville, S. C., is the engineer. Mr. Sirrine has a reputation of being one of the best cotton mill engineers in the South. It is of attractive, modern design and with equipment for the most economical steam and electrical generation. So economical is the equipment that less than one-half the fuel necessary to operate the combined plants of the Maysville Gas Company and the Jaanary & Wood Company, wiil operate the new plant.

In general the station consists of a modera boiler plant with 3 Manning type boilers of 200 horse power each with 750 KW or 1,000 horse power steam-turbo generating units in a separate room, the basement of which, containing condensing equipment, pumps, etc., is on a level with the boller floor and opens into same. The turbo generators exhaust into condensers, eireniating water which is cooled by a shallow spray pond located in front of the building. Water is thus used over and over becoming distilled and no scaling of the boilers is caused.

The re-enforced concrete Boor of that portion of the building containing the electrical equipment is from two to three feet above the level of the 1913 flood line.

The bolier room is much lower and ievel with the yard or the Boor of the eoal bunkers in the rear of the building. Around the entire building and eoal bunkers runs a continuous and unbroken re-enforced conwali that will keep erete out all flood water. To provide for emption Board Saturday appointed several sump pits connected to an ejector pit in the boiler room are provided. In the basement is located a 750 gallon underwriters pump which is ease of fire distributes the entire contents of the spray pond through automatie sprinkier system into the Cotton Mlils.

January & Wood Company has installed motors and has converted all its power requirements to electric motor drive. After having been expanded from 200 pounds to 10 pounds pressure for generating electric power, steam is extracted and soid Innnary & Wood at 10 pounds pressure for their honting and dyeing requirements. When there is no demand for low pressure steam in the Cotton Mill all the steam will pass through all stages of the turbino and into the condensers.

The new plant is primarily design ed for public service and is a great asset to the city of Maysville. No city of 50,000 inhabitants could have a better plant. Arrangements have been made for increasing ita output if necessary and the present building will be able to produce twice as much electricity as the city of lluysville now roquires. The plant has been built, however, so that if Maysville should at any time require more than twice the present output, it end be added to and can be made to furnish enough electricity for a city five times tho size of Maysviile.

The building and equiping of the plant cost thousands of dolinrs but pleasant visit. Mr. Parsons is a na- the machinery was purchased on contracts made in 1916. If they had to be purchased today the plant would coat 33 % to 50 por cent, more.
